Project Details

Arogya project – Project Arogya is a health project on health implemented by SROUT support of Balco CSR. The project aims to target areas of issues in health care and supports the community with interventions in Primary Health Care, Awareness on various seasonal and non- seasonal diseases. Specific emphasis is laid on Malaria, TB, HIV and Maternal & Child Health in order to create a community which is free from diseases and can lead healthy and prosperous lives.

in

The program has been implemented in Balco's plant location, actively covering 26 core villages & Urban slums covering over 35000 people. The introduction of Arogya in these areas is relevant as most of the villagers had to travel a great distance to avail medical facilities, also the medical facilities used to cost a significant amount which is more than what rural population could afford. After the introduction of Rural Health Posts the health care services have become both accessible and affordable.

Child line 1098 – ChildLine is a national 24-hour free emergency phone line which can be reached by dialing 10-9-8. The program also does outreach in order to find, rescue, and support children in need of care and protection. Established by the Women and Child Development department in 1996, the program was piloted in Mumbai. It is now present in 366 cities across 34 states in India. SROUT is the implementing agency for the ChildLine branch in Korba, Chhattisgarh. SROUT's ChildLine staff members respond to cases of abuse, children in conflict with the law, and reports of child trafficking, missing children, or runaway children, as well as other unique situations of which they are made aware. They are responsible for ensuring that children in need of care and protection receive the help and support that they need. Around 390 cases handled related to children by the team Child line in the year 2022- 23.

Child home boys – Under integrated child protection scheme Balgrih boys was there in which 40 children were there under 6 to 17 age. The Child Home for Boys is a shelter for male children who are in need of care and protection. This may include children without parental care, runaway children, migrant children, and child substance abusers. Started in 2013, it has the capacity for up to 50 children, providing accommodation, basic, care, as well as counseling and support as needed. The home works closely with the local Child Welfare Committee to respond to each unique case, determining the best and most caring option for the child, with an ideal of reintegrating the child with their family if is possible and reasonable. This year we have given shelter to the 36 children of organization.

Ujjwala: The trafficking of women and children for commercial sexual exploitation is an organized crime that is on the rise in India. Ujjwala is a national scheme established by the Ministry of Women and Child Development that works to prevent human trafficking and provide rescue, rehabilitation, and re-integration services to victims of trafficking. SROUT has been the implementing agency for the Ujjwala scheme in Korba district since 2013, with focused efforts on two key aspects of the scheme:

prevention and rehabilitation. This year 26 women and 6 children got benefitted from our program

Farmers producer organization

The Farmer Producer Organization (FPO) is an initiative to assist small and marginal farmers in accessing inputs, investments, technology, and markets by mobilizing them to leverage their market aggregate market power. Through collective action, farmers are able to enhance productivity through efficient, cost-effective and sustainable resource use. They attain a higher market value for their produce by controlling a larger market share. The combination of these two factors leads to significantly higher returns for their labor and production. SROUT supports an FPO in Bhatgaon village of Korba district. Farmers producer's organization input shop is shifted to the new building constructed by the Balco CSR for FPO.

The Input shop of Farmers producer's organization was inaugurated by the Head Balco CSR Ms. Monika Jain.

Watershed project –

Agriculture is a primary income source for approximately 80% of Chhattisgarh's inhabitants. The majority of these farmers rely on rainfall and traditional methods to cultivate their produce. As a result, agricultural communities are highly vulnerable to unpredictable weather patterns, such as flooding and drought.

The Watershed Development Program is designed to improve soil quality and water conservation through earthen structures that slow down the movement of rainwater through an area as well as water storage strategies that provide irrigation sources for dry months. Though facilitated by SROUT staff and funded by NABARD, this is a village-led program, with community members making decisions and providing labour to implement water management strategies.

Currently, SROUT is supporting a watershed development project in the Songudha watershed, encompassing the Songudha, Aurakachar, and Dondaro villages. April 2022 is a month to start main phase of songudha watershed project. From April 2022 Project Activities has been started and Farm Pond, Paddy Bund, Contour Bund, Plantation, DRIP Irrigation system
